

Observations: Subject's health has continued to decline with infection spreading throughout the internal tissues. Integrity of the dermis has been compromised, with severe ulceration of all exposed skin across limbs, torso and face. Severe edema observed which was suspect result of an internal purulent mass. Acute septicemia resulted in subject's death at 03:46.